“Building Relationships with Funders”

Do you need new ways to fund your vision?

The “Building Relationships with Funders” Workshop provides technical assistance for capacity building, fund development, and sustainability by empowering the building of relationships with funders to access money and other resources following a proven model. The workshop covers: getting ready to receive, sharing your vision in writing with the right people at the right time, gleaning and leveraging, the power of a thank you note, and the key-- following up whether rejected or approved. Join us for a one-day workshop empowering you with new direction to help you help yourself access resources and meet needs. . .
